CONGRESSMAN DAVID WU TO INTRODUCE CLASS SIZE REDUCTION MEASURE

Wu is tapped to lead continuing effort for smaller class size

Washington, D.C. – Congressman Wu tomorrow will introduce legislation to add more teachers to the nation's classrooms. The Class Size Reduction Act is a continuation of efforts that have placed thousands of qualified teachers across the nation in an effort to help local schools reduce class size in kindergarten through 3rd grade.

"Education has been my top priority and I am proud to have the opportunity to lead the effort to reduce class size," said Congressman Wu. "Qualified teachers are starting to show up in Oregon schools as a result of previous efforts and we have a responsibility to continue to help local schools with this initiative."

Congressman Wu is a member of the Education Committee and has lead bipartisan efforts to reduce class size and to encourage more adult participation in schools.
